Real Answers to Real Questions from Real Teens

I am 15 years old.
Is it okay to date
online?

We advise against online dating if you are under 18. It is illegal. Sexual predators use the internet as a way to lure teens into dangerous situations. Don't be too quick to trust someone you've met online. It is difficult to verify if any of the information is true.

Online dating is a risk at any age in terms of safety (not to mention success). Don't get sucked into cyber-dating. Having a boyfriend in real life is more fun.

Give your life "off-monitor" top priority. Date only with your parent/guardian's consent or you could fall into a trap.
